The recitations and solos were given by Alma Gealey, Sophia Samuels, Sarah Evans, Mary Beynon, Bertha/Sanders, Margaret Jones, Sarah Harris, Elizabeth Jones, Thomas Evans, Carl Davies, Jennie Davies, Harry Griffiths, Mary Thomas, Pearl Jenkins, Maggie Howell, Jones, Ethel Decker, Mamie Barth, Emma Williams, Sadie Williams, Louise Evans, John Morgan, Lillian and Marie LaBar.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The pastor of the church, Rev. S. F. Mathews, exchanged pulpits with Rev. G. H. Cole, of Elmhurst, yesterday morning and evening. Rev. Cole took "Be ye doers and not hearers of the word only" for the theme of the morning sermon. The sermon was a superb service. Recitations were given by Mil- effort, clear and to the point, and will linger in the minds of the congregation for some time to come.

In the evening he also preached an eloquent sermon, clear and forceful. The points touched upon in both sermons were ones which commanded attention, and if taken to heart would prove a vast power for good and Chris-

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MRS. HENRY ZEIGLER.

Was Attended by Hundreds of Sympathizing Friends and Neighbors. Services Conducted by the Rev. William A. Nordt-Children's Day Services Conducted in a Number of the Churches-Councilman Charles Graf Home from the Albany Convention-Other Notes.

All that was mortal of the late Mrs Henry Zeigler was laid at rest with impressive services yesterday afternoon, and the remains were followed to the grave by hundreds of sympathizing friends and neighbors who had known and loved the deceased as a loving wife and mother, and a steadfast and true friend.

Long before the hour of 3, when the services were to begin, hundreds passed through the parlors, to take a last look at the features, as they rested in a massive silk-lined black casket, which was almost hid from view with floral okens of love and sympathy. Short services and prayer were held in the house, corner of Cedar avenue and Hickory street, by the Rev. William A. Nordt, who later conducted impressive services at the Hickory street church, which was crowded to the doors. The remains were carried to the church by life-long friends, and were followed by the family, Ladies' Aid society, and a long line of friends, that stretched out to a length of several blocks.

The pastor took his text from the Epistle to the Romans, eighth chapter quent praise of the deceased lady, and paid a fitting tribute to her memory as a good Christian, and a tender, devoted wife and mother.

During the services, Charles Doersam presided at the organ, by special request, while the solo parts were taken by Miss Martha Nordt and Miss Mary Wirth. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was sung at the cemetery by the Freuer Verein, after a prayer for the dead had been sald by Rev. Mr. Nordt.

The pall-bearers were Charles Mirtz Charles Neuls, Peter Zang, William Maus, Jacob Ruppenthal and George Engel. The many beautiful flowers were carried by Hon. John J. Scheuer, R. A. Zimmerman, J. J. Hildebrandt
